1. General Principles

London Campus of Higher Studies is committed to upholding the principles of fairness and transparency within its exam process. However, we acknowledge that occasionally, applicants may have reason to question or express an opinion to the LCHS, about its decision, or the way in which their application has been handled.

As such, the LCHS aims to operate a fair and transparent Exam Appeals and Complaints procedure which:

- encourages informal resolution;
- does not disadvantage applicants.

Appeals and complaints should be made directly by the applicant. Due to Data Protection legislation, we are only able to consider appeals and complaints made by third parties if an applicant has provided written authorization, including the name and contact details of the relevant third party.

2. Definitions

A request for feedback is an informal request for further information or clarification regarding an admission related matter. You should also use this route if you believe that an exam error may have occurred in the handling of your application.

An appeal is a request for a formal review of a specific exam result decision (e.g. the decision to reject an exam, the level of the academic offer made, the fee category assigned) under the following grounds for appeal:

1. procedural irregularity;
2. emergence of new information which may have affected the initial decision had it been available at the time the decision was made;
3. that there has been prejudice or bias in the decision-making

Please note that appeals cannot be based on challenges to academic judgments made on your application. If you appeal on grounds (ii) above, you will need to explain why you have not been able to bring the information to the LCHS attention before the result decision was made.

If an appeal is successful the original decision may be changed.

A complaint is a statement of dissatisfaction concerning:

- the LCHS exam procedures or policies which have been used to reach a result decision;
- the actions, lack of actions, or behavior of a member of staff involved in the exam result decision.

A complaint cannot be considered if it solely constitutes a challenge to the academic criteria used to consider applications for a program of study. If a complaint is successful, the LCHS may offer an apology and/or a commitment to revise policy or procedures.

3. Procedure

A. Stage 1

In the first instance, an informal request for feedback should be submitted via application to the relevant Exam Office, usually within 10 working days of the original result decision, outlining the reason for the appeal or complaint. The LCHS will endeavor to provide a reply within 15 working days either in writing or over the telephone.

Stage 2

If you are unhappy with the outcome of Stage 1, a formal Appeal or Complaint may be submitted using the Appeals and Complaints form. This should be sent via email within 10 working days of receiving Stage 1 feedback.

If the grounds for appeal fall within those defined above, the case for appeal will be evaluated by the relevant Exam Center Manager, or appropriate nominee, who will review all relevant information relating to the case and may contact relevant parties for further information, including those involved in the initial decision and the applicant, before they reach a conclusion on the case.

A similar procedure will be followed for complaints, where the matters raised fit the criteria for an appeal against an admissions decision. The outcome of the appeal or complaint review will be communicated to the appellant in writing and reasons will be provided.

If an appeal is upheld, the action the .00 proposes to take to remedy the situation, which may include a review to the original result decision, will be outlined at the same time to the appellant.

If a complaint is upheld, the LCHS proposed action to resolve the complaint will also be outlined to the appellant when they are notified of the outcome.

The Admissions Manager will endeavor to respond to both appeals and complaints within 15 working days of receipt. If, at this point, the case is unresolved, we will inform the applicant of the progress of their case.

If the appeal or complaint specifically regards the actions of the relevant Exam Center Manager, the case will be reviewed by a colleague of appropriate seniority.

C. Stage 3

London Campus of Higher Studies
Appeals and Complaints Policy (version 1.1)

Following Stage 2, if you are still not satisfied with the outcome of your appeal or complaint, you may request that your case (as submitted to the Exam Center Manager together with any response you have to the outcome) be formally reviewed by the LCHS Academic Registrar (a correspondence address will be provided if necessary following Stage 2).

Any such request must be made in writing within three months of receiving the Stage 2 response. The request will be considered by the Academic Registrar who will review all previous documentation relating to the case and may seek additional information from the applicant and/or the other parties involved, and may take advice from other colleagues with relevant experience. Having investigated the issues raised, the Academic Registrar may decide:

1. to confirm the original decision made on the case by the Exam Center Manager
2. to uphold the appeal or complaint and propose a resolution of the matter to the appellant
3. to refer the matter for consideration in line with another LCHS procedure.

The LCHS will aim to notify you of the Academic Registrar's decision within 20 working days of receipt. If this is not possible, you will be informed in writing of the progress being made to review your appeal or complaint.

The Academic Registrar's decision on an exam appeal or complaint is final and there is no further procedure within the LCHS for such cases to be reviewed.
